FIRST LOOK INTO THE FINE ARTS AT MC

ART

The Monmouth College Art department surveys prehistoric art through contemporary art. Recently, the College has added special courses including: Asian Art and Culture and Women, Art and Feminism. With the addition of unique features in the curriculum, like the Junior and Senior Open Studio, Individual Study Contracts, and the Senior Art Seminar, students are immersed in rich, cultural experiences. As the MC Art department continues to expand, look for new gallery openings in the months to come.

MUSIC

In May, the Monmouth College Chorale, under the direction of Timothy Pahel, traveled to Spain and performed at several venues, including “an old, beautiful church” in Lloret de Mar, which is in Spain’s Catalan region. “We sang in front of a full house of about 400 people,” said Pahel. “The crowd was very enthusiastic, and we got three standing ovations.” Harrison, an assistant professor of modern foreign languages, accompanied the group, serving as a tour guide and even joining the Chorale in their performances.

THEATRE

If indeed “all the world’s a stage,” the Theatre major offers many ways to successfully “make an entrance.” The Theatre Department offers a theatre major that includes the skills necessary to produce excellent theatre (acting, directing, design, management) along with experiences relevant to lifelong learning (creativity, working in a collaborative environment, achieving self-expression, and increasing self-confidence). For all students, the major stresses both general knowledge in the process of theater and skillful development in the creation of theater.
