CONTOR STRESSES GROWTH OF CONVENTION ATTENDANCE IN ANNUAL LETTER

The following is the text of the annual letter from the National President of Eta Sigma Phi:

“To the Members of Eta Sigma Phi:

“I should like to extend to all of you my greetings at the beginning of a new year of scholarship—one filled, I trust, with all life’s blessings for you and for our Fraternity.

“Much has been accomplished in the short years since Eta Sigma Phi was reorganized. The presence of representatives of sixteen of our thirty-eight listed Chapters at the last Convention was in itself a token of the strength of our union. But a perfect attendance of all of the old Chapters, as well as those admitted last April, is still a goal worth striving for; only by such close contact can we gain the full fruits of our Fraternity. It might be well, I believe, to reconsider the regulations governing Convention attendance in order to gain this good.

“The strengthening of our financial condition in the coming year is also to be desired. Some study was given this problem at the Nashville Meeting, and attempts were made to provide more funds. In view of increased costs, especially of the publications which help to bind us together, it may be well to increase our national dues and initiation fees, as well as to gain new sources of revenue. A stronger treasury will, I feel, enable us to expand materially our ‘small role in enlarging an appreciation of the great classical tradition’.

REACTIVATED TAU CHAPTER TO BE HOST AT TWENTY-THIRD NATIONAL CONVENTION

Tau Chapter at the University of Kentucky, in Lexington, as was announced in The Nuntius of May 15, 1950, is to be host at the Twenty-third National Convention of Eta Sigma Phi. This event is set for April 6 and 7, 1951, and efforts have already begun to make the gathering even more impressive and representative than the highly successful meeting at Nashville in the year just passed. Article X of the National Constitution of the Fraternity, dealing with “Local Chapters”, has the following provision under Section 6: “Chapters which have had no representatives at six successive National Conventions shall be dropped from the Chapter roll and their charter revoked”. Thus far, however, the enforcement of the section has been tempered because of the stress of reorganization.

“I hope, too, that each Chapter will take a renewed interest in its alumni in the coming year. A card, letter, or published announcement can do much to recall them to our fellowship and to revive their interest in our aims and activities.

“I sincerely hope each of you will feel free to communicate with me or the other national officers on any subject you think of interest to Eta Sigma Phi. Any suggestions you make will be appreciated; any aid we can give will be freely given. We, as your officers, are also your servants. Our future lies in our common labors.

“Fraternally yours,
MAURICE D. CONTOR”

National Secretary Lynn Shields

NATIONAL PRESIDENT CONTOR PLANNING
TO ENTER LAW OR BUSINESS

Following a practice begun last year, The Nuntius is planning again a series of photographs and "interviews" with persons prominent in Fraternity activities. The National President, Maurice David Contor, has his official letter to the membership and his photograph elsewhere in this issue. He became well known to the membership of Eta Sigma Phi in April, 1950, when he took an active part in the Twenty-second National Convention, held at Vanderbilt University, where he is a student.

Contor was born in Chattanooga, Tennessee, on Christmas Day, 1925, the son of Isaac and Elsie Dicker Contor. He attended Greeta Wort Grade School, in Chattanooga, and was graduated in 1941. For secondary studies, he enrolled at the McCallie School, also in Chattanooga, completing his course in 1947. In September of the same year he matriculated at Vanderbilt University, where in his present senior year he is majoring in business administration, with a minor in psychology, in the pre-legal curriculum.

His activities are numerous. He is a Sergeant, Headquarters Thirtieth Infantry Division, Tennessee National Guard. He is also managing editor of the Masquerader, the humor magazine; feature editor for the third year of the campus newspaper, the Hustler; president, Theta Mu Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, national service fraternity; state chairman, college council for the United Nations; and a member and former officer of various other campus organizations, including Psi chapter of Eta Sigma Phi, of which he is a past Vice-President.

His hobbies are fishing and hunting. He plans to make the Twenty-third National Convention of the Fraternity a record in attendance and achievement.

ANN BLOCKER FLEMING NOW IN GRADUATE STUDIES AT NORTH CAROLINA

The winner of the Delcamp Greek Scholarship Award of The Classical Association of the Middle West and South in 1950, Ann Blocker Fleming, is now pursuing graduate work for a Master's degree with a major in Greek at the University of North Carolina. She is a graduate of Birmingham-Southern College, Birmingham, Alabama, where she was active in Pi Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi. In a letter of September 30, she writes that her courses are in Herodotus, Aeschylus, and Horace.

LYNN SHIELDS, NATIONAL SECRETARY
LOOKING AHEAD TO TEACHING

"After graduation", says National Secretary Marilyn Ruth Shields, "I plan to teach Latin or English in high school some place, preferably a small town in Ohio". During summers she hopes to take elementary education work at Flora Stone Mather College in Cleveland, then go to Europe as an exchange teacher, and "someplace along the line", she says, "I would like to get my Master's degree".

This may look rather ambitious, but Lynn's life has been an active one. She was born in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1929. Her father is David G. Shields, and her mother Wilhemina Elizabeth Nau Shields. She was graduated from Caledonia Elementary School, Cleveland Heights, in 1941, and from Heights High School in 1947. She is now a senior at Denison University. Her major subject is Latin, and she is qualifying for a teacher's certificate in Latin, English, and Spanish. She is writing, as an honors project in her major subject, a handbook for Latin clubs in high school.

Lynn has been very active in campus life. She is President of Zeta Chapter, Eta Sigma Phi, vice-president of Chi Omega social fraternity, and a past junior adviser cooperating with the Dean of Women in work with freshmen. She is a member of Phi Society, the Spanish honorary group Sigma Delta Pi, and the Y.W.C.A.

During high school days Lynn took part in an essay contest sponsored by the Ohio Classical Conference in 1945, winning a twenty-five dollar prize for herself, and receiving the Hildesheim Vase for her school for a year. Her main hobby at present is art, and she is also fond of collecting poems and quotations.

CHARTER MEMBER PROFESSOR
CLYDE MURLEY RECEIVES NEW HONORS
FROM CAMWS

Professor Clyde Murley of Northwestern University, whose association with Eta Sigma Phi goes back to the days of its foundation, was honored last year by The Classical Association of the Middle West and South in being appointed to the editorship of The Classical Journal, to succeed Professor Norman J. DeWitt of the University of Minnesota, who had served as editor for five years. Professor Murley will remain Chairman of the Association's Committee on Latin Week. For this annual event he will again write the Latin Week Bulletin, making it a detachable part of a regular number of The Classical Journal.

Double Winner Janice John

WINNER OF TWO FIRSTS IN 1950 ETA SIGMA
PHI CONTEST PLANS GRADUATE WORK

When the votes, duly confidential and cast for persons known by code designations only, came to the Executive Secretary's office for the 1950 Special Greek Translation Contest and the Fifth Annual Essay Contest, one name made a very prominent appearance in both events. That was the name of Janice John, then a junior at Trinity College, Washington, D.C., who tied with Bernard Richard Gunstra of Houghton College for first place in the translation event and carried first honors alone in the Essay Contest. By the announced terms, she received fifty dollars as the first prize in each contest, with a bonus of fifty dollars from the translation event because of placing in both trials.

This year Janice is back at Trinity as a senior. She is not quite a native of Washington, though she has been living there for a number of years, since she was born in Brooklyn, New York, in 1930. Her parents are James E. and Helen McAlear John, and she is the eldest of five children. In Washington, she attended Saint Gabriel's Grade School, and afterwards Holy Cross Academy. At the latter institution she was co-editor of the high school paper and co-founder of the Latin Club.

She won a Pepsi-Cola Scholarship which she is using at Trinity College, where she is pursuing a course with a major in English and minors in Greek, Latin, and philosophy. She is at present a managing editor of The Trinity College Record, a literary quarterly. During the summers she has been doing clerical work in the office of the Secretary General of The Catholic University of America.

Her leisure hobbies are walking, rowing, cycling, and community singing. She hopes to continue her program of studies for a graduate degree after completing her work at Trinity College this coming June.

TWO NATIONAL CONTESTS AND A POSSIBLE
THIRD PLANNED BY ETA SIGMA PHI THIS YEAR

Eta Sigma Phi will sponsor on a national scale during 1950-1951 a Sixth Annual Essay Contest and a Special Greek Translation Contest, with prizes again supplied through the generosity of the Anonymous Donor who has provided for these events for the past several years. In consideration, too, is the "Satterfield Original Version Contest", proposed by Dr. Val B. Satterfield, well known Saint Louis psychiatrist, which would offer a passage of Latin as yet untranslated into English for effort by college undergraduates.

Sixth Annual Essay Contest

The Essay Contest will be open this year to undergraduates pursuing a course in Greek or Latin at an approved American college or university. Papers must be original, typed, and limited to a maximum of 2,250 words. They must be submitted directly to the Executive Secretary, with a postmark not later than March 15, 1951. A board of judges will be appointed, and the carrying out of the Contest in full will be dependent on the submission of a minimum of fifteen entries from fifteen different institutions.

Prizes will be as follows: first, $50.00; second, $35.00; third, $25.00; fourth, $17.50; fifth, $12.50; sixth, $10.00.

The topic will be: "Democratic Ideals in Pericles' Funeral Oration (Thucydides 2.34-46)".

Special Greek Translation Contest

This Contest involving sight translation of a passage of Greek will be open to undergraduates enrolled in a course in Greek in an approved American college or university. The passage will be suitable for a student in the second year of the language or beyond. It will be held in all participating schools for two hours on March 15, 1951, for two hours. A carrying out of the full terms of the Contest will be dependent upon a due number of entrants. Notification of a desire to take part must be sent in writing, not later than March 1, 1951, to the Executive Secretary.

Prizes will be offered in the same way as for the Essay Contest, save that a person placing in both Contests will receive a third award equal in amount to his prize in the Translation Contest. Full details of the Contests will be announced by letter.

ANOTHER ANNIVERSARY

During 1949-1950, the four numbers of The Nuntius carried as a slogan for the year, at the top of the front page, "Growth and Expansion Year". Events during the period, happily, justified to a satisfying degree the motto. There was growth, and there was expansion.

During the year now well inaugurated, there is a new slogan, calling attention to the fact that this is the Silver or Twenty-fifth Anniversary volume of The Nuntius. It has been a varied and frequently changing quarter century of publication, indeed, from the four-page, mimeographed first number of the first volume, carefully bound in flexible purple cardboard, with a gold-imprinted "Eta Sigma Phi", to the publication as we have it today. The first number was edited by Marjorie Cooper of the University of Chicago, was to appear four times a year for a subscription price of fifty cents, and had its office on University Avenue within the bounds of the University of Chicago. Each chapter was requested to appoint its own reporter.

The first page listed a "roll-call of chapters" numbering nine in all, with three additional ones set down as "not yet installed". Nine of these twelve are at present active: Beta, Gamma, Delta, Epsilon, Zeta, Eta, Theta, Kappa, and Lambda.

The successive history of The Nuntius--which, incidentally, always kept its name unchanged, unlike many more enterprising publications, both professional and general--was one of triumphs and retreats, of bulk and thinness, of regularity and intermittence. The Nuntius has appeared in printed, mimeographed, and planographed form. Its size has varied greatly, as have its dimensions. Its editors have been many. Its contents have been interestingly diverse.

Sometimes a single number has constituted a volume. The last publication to appear before the present editorship was, seemingly, that by Mr. Kinchen W. Exum, then of the McCallie School, in Chattanooga, Tennessee. This was a neatly printed, sixteen-page booklet, about nine inches by six and one-quarter, marked as volume 20, number 1, in May, 1946.

Nothing further appeared until the present editor's "Special Reactivation Number", dated August, 1947. It was subsequently decided to call this number "volume 21". Since that time, the now familiar eight-page, four-issues-a-year, magazine has been appearing.

In this anniversary period, thanks, surely, must go to all those who have carried The Nuntius through a quarter century and have given to us today their experience and the fine heritage of their achievement. The Nuntius is the official organ of Eta Sigma Phi as a national organization. For the best realization of its purpose, it must rely with increasing urgency upon the genuine interest and help of all the chapters. May this anniversary year see a continuance and a growth in that needed cooperation!

A SALUTE TO THE RETURNED AND THE NEW

The back cover of the present issue of The Nuntius lists forty-three "currently active chapters". Missing from last year's list is Alpha Kappa, at the University of Illinois, which has temporarily become inactive. On the credit side is Beta Chapter at Northwestern University, which through faculty effort and the able work of Miss Florence Sachtschale was reactivated last spring. Listed for the first time, as new chapters, approved by action of the Twenty-second National Convention are: Beta Xi, Rosary College, River Forest, Illinois; Beta Omicron, Mount Mary College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Beta Pi, University of Arkansas, Fayetteville; and Beta Rho, Duke University, Durham, North Carolina; Beta Sigma, Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

To all of these--and to certain additional chapters yet to be installed--a hearty and an enthusiastic welcome. May they find stimulation and help from their affiliation with Eta Sigma Phi, and may they in turn contribute fully their initiative, their freshness of outlook, their drive, and their fraternal zeal, that the spirit of earnest endeavor, good will, and friendship may pervade the body of Eta Sigma Phi and bind us all together.

FEDERAL JUDGE HAROLD R. MEDINA WRITES AN APPRAISAL OF CLASSICAL STUDIES

At the suggestion of Mr. Jack Alexander, of The Saturday Evening Post, the Editor of The Nuntius instituted correspondence with The Honorable Harold R. Medina, Judge of the United States District Court, New York City, with regard to the worth of classical studies. Judge Medina, in the now celebrated American trial of the eleven communists, has of late added immeasurably to his already distinguished record among this country's jurists.

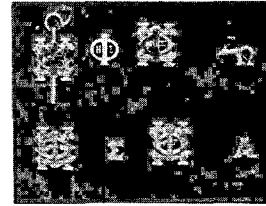

Classics as a Hobby

Over a period of many years, Judge Medina has continued his classical readings as a hobby. He has recently been made acquainted with The Nuntius, and has expressed appreciation at being on the list of those to whom the publication comes. On being invited to do so, he has sent in the following endorsement of classical studies, with the word that, if it "is the sort of thing you wish, you may publish it with my blessing".

Judge Medina's Statement

"As a young man the study of the ancient classics was what was then regarded as an indispensable part of the formal studies leading to the Bachelor of Arts Degree. As is doubtless the case with many others, I have but a dim recollection of most of the books I read. But a junior course in lyric poetry of the Augustan Age took hold; with the result that, after the first ten or fifteen years of ceaseless labor at the mastery of the tools of my profession, I again took up the study of Latin. This time I really mastered the forms and the essentials of the basic grammar and syntax and I went on and on, rereading Caesar and Cicero and Ovid and Vergil, with a certain amount of Sallust and Tacitus thrown in for good measure. This has gone on for some twenty-five years; and I believe that this work has been of inestimable value not only in mental discipline but also in greatly stimulating my imagination in connection with my professional work. Moreover, due in large part to my study of Latin and doubtless also to my reading of English literature, I have noticed that my style of writing has become more flexible and more attractive in general. It is hard to explain all this in a word or two.

"If I were to specify the one particular subject which I regard as most important for the training of a lawyer, I would unhesitatingly select the study of Latin".

AMONG THE CHAPTERSBETA, NORTHWESTERN UNIVERSITY

Florence Sachtschale, Prytanis of Beta, came to Northwestern as a transfer student from Lawrence College, home of Alpha Omicron. In a card written last May, she told of plans for a reactivation initiation at Northwestern on May 24. Professor Grundy Steiner has been among the faculty members actively cooperating.

GAMMA, OHIO UNIVERSITY (ATHENS)

National Treasurer Dolores Neff is beginning the year with letters to all the chapters on their financial obligations. Gamma Chapter, she writes, is planning again an active year.

DELTA, FRANKLIN COLLEGE

Officers for the year are: President: Martha Hanes; Secretary, Richard Muterspaugh; Treasurer, Clayton Peaslee. The membership includes a Faculty Adviser and an honorary member in addition to the active members.

EPSILON, STATE UNIVERSITY OF IOWA

An initiation is planned this fall, according to word from Jim Sandrock, who is President for 1950-1951. Eugene Links is Secretary-Treasurer.

PI, BIRMINGHAM-SOUTHERN COLLEGE

Professor H. R. Butts, who spent the summer in Europe, is again at his post, and Pi expects to have its usually active and successful year.

TAU, UNIVERSITY OF KENTUCKY

Tau, Convention host for 1950-1951, will stage an annual banquet in its own program and will sponsor two lectures. The officers are: President, Dianne McKaig; Vice-President, Austin Lawrence; Secretary, Eliza Rowland; Treasurer, Ann Grubbs.

PSI, VANDERBILT UNIVERSITY

As of March 10 last, Psi had an active membership of eighteen. This group performed nobly in staging the Twenty-second National Convention. This year Psi is honored in having one of its members, Maurice D. Contor, in the office of National President. On May 11 fifteen active members and one associate member were initiated. James LaPenna is President for 1950-1951; Vice-President, Virgil Whitesides; Secretary, Jane Wright; Treasurer, Edward Armstrong.

ALPHA DELTA, AGNES SCOTT COLLEGE

There are at present nine active members, with additions ahead from an initiation planned for the present quarter. President is Ginnie Feddeman; Vice-President, Anita Coyne; Secretary, Mary Lee Stunnicut; Treasurer, Katie Berdanis.

ALPHA EPSILON, LEHIGH UNIVERSITY

R. Andrew Shackles, President of Alpha Epsilon, is in correspondence with the national Executive Secretary with regard to plans to set up the Chapter at Moravian College for Men, approved at the Twenty-second Annual Convention.

ALPHA XI, WASHINGTON UNIVERSITY

There will be the customary monthly programs centered about a classical theme, according to word from past National Vice-President William Donovan, who is continuing this year his usual active participation in student activities at Washington University. Robert Mollenhof is the new Chapter President; there are two Vice-Presidents, Don Wells and Arthur Babad; Patricia Brood is Secretary-Treasurer.

ALPHA OMICRON, LAWRENCE COLLEGE

An initiation is planned for November 16, and a celebration of the Saturnalia on December 14. Bette Bohl is President for 1950-1951; Lynn Casper is Vice-President; LaVerne McKay is Secretary-Treasurer; and Beverly Kivell is Nuntius Reporter. On April 21 last, Alpha Omicron entertained classics students from Appleton High School; records from the Medea were played, and afterwards Miss Edna Wiegand was hostess for refreshments. At the final meeting of the year, on May 17, Dr. Louis Baker spoke on "Your Words in English".

ALPHA PI, GETTYSBURG COLLEGE

Seventeen new members were initiated on October 12, and the total active membership is twenty-eight. President for the year is Louis J. Hamman; Vice-President, Marion Jones; Secretary, Evelyn Ray; Treasurer, John Wagner; Doorkeeper, John Hershberger. Professors John G. Glenn and W. Frederick Schaffer continue as Faculty Advisers.

ALPHA RHO, MUHLENBERG COLLEGE

There was an initiation of new members on October 12, and a Christmas party is planned at home of Professor R. C. Horn. Harold Iverson is President for 1950-1951; Gene Angstadt, Vice-President; Thomas Bollwer, Secretary; and Gene Kreider, Treasurer.

ALPHA CHI, TULANE UNIVERSITY

Professor G. W. Regenos, on September 26, writes that plans for the year were then incomplete. Some forty copies of The Nuntius will be needed, however, for a year which is expected to be active. Joseph N. Cathcart is President for 1950-1951; Regina Gunthorpe is Vice-President; Harper Hunt Comer, Secretary; Maria Fulham, Corresponding Secretary; James B. Roberts, Jr., Treasurer.

ALPHA OMEGA, LOUISIANA STATE UNIVERSITY

Papers of classical interest will be the program at the meetings for the year. The officers are: President, Donald J. Muller; Vice-President, Austin Meng; Secretary, Joyce Willis; Treasurer, Helen Wimmer; Doorkeeper, Mary Ellen Dore.

BETA ALPHA, UNIVERSITY OF SOUTH DAKOTA

Beta Alpha plans again to enter a float in the University of South Dakota Homecoming Parade. The Chapter added three members last spring. Officers are: President, Francis N. Sever; Vice-President, Warren Dirks; Secretary, Lois Jones; Treasurer, Carol Renner; Historian, Ted Pappas; Doorkeeper, James Vandiver.

BETA GAMMA, WESTHAMPTON COLLEGE

Word from the President says, "We are conducting a tour of Richmond City for all freshmen and new students. One who has recently visited Rome and Athens will give us a summary of her trip". The President is Anne Plunkett; Vice-President, Jane Slaughter; Secretary-Treasurer, Claire Carlton.

BETA ZETA, SAINT LOUIS UNIVERSITY

The Chapter is planning an initiation on November 20. It will have four meetings of its own, and will meet in alternate months with The Saint Louis University Classical Club, whose program for the year will be a continuing discussion of "Some Aims of Liberal Education". Chapter officers are: President, James Harte; Vice-President, Lily Vitt, of Fontbonne College; Secretary, Janet Ludwig, of Webster College; a Treasurer, to come from Maryville College, will be elected at the November meeting.

BETA ETA, WESTMINSTER COLLEGE

Discussions of Aristotle's Poetics and of Plato's Meno are planned for the first two meetings. John Tranborger is President, and Ross Lilly is Treasurer.

BETA THETA, HAMPDEN-SYDNEY COLLEGE

The officers for the year are: Robert H. Ramey, President; William R. Williams, III, Vice-President; Marcellus E. Waddill and R. M. Frazer, Secretaries; R. B. Chichester, Treasurer. A varied and active program for the year is planned.

BETA KAPPA, COLLEGE OF NOTRE DAME OF MARYLAND

Plans for the year included, according to word sent on September 26, the initiation of five new members; a talk by a visiting lecturer in October; and a discussion of "The Vatican Excavations" in November. President for the year is Alma Homrighausen; Secretary, Lucy Vash; Treasurer, Ann Connor; Doorkeeper, Loretta Vogel.

BETA LAMBDA, MARYMOUNT COLLEGE

Six active members were reported on October 4, with plans for the initiation of one new member in November. The officers for the year are: President, Pat Austin; Secretary, Margaret Cleary; Treasurer, Janet Sakihara.

BETA MU, BUTLER UNIVERSITY

The Chapter held a dinner party on October 6, and elected the following officers for the year: President, Marion Hopkins; Vice-President, Harold Cline; Secretary, Virginia Irrgang; Treasurer, Arnold Wagenberg; Doorkeeper, Robert Logue.

BETA NU, MARY WASHINGTON COLLEGE

Included on the year's program will be a tea for high school students and a white elephant sale. Nancy Stump is President; Betty Jean Snidow, Vice-President; Virginia G. Wallace, Secretary-Treasurer.
