MEGAS PRYTANIS SARAH S. UZZELL has the distinction of serving Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity as a national officer for a second year. Her work as Megas Chrysohylax last year pleased the delegates to our national convention so much that they elected her to be their highest official. Miss Uzzell is a member of Alpha Delta Chapter at Agnes Scott College, Decatur, Georgia, where she is majoring in Classics and will have completed four years of college Latin and three of Greek upon her graduation next spring. She is participating by invitation in the program of Independent Study for seniors in her major field.

Miss Uzzell says: "I am a native of Bryn Mawr, Pennsylvania, and was graduated from Radnor High School. There a real love and appreciation for the Latin language were first instilled in me by my young and dynamic teacher. Never have I forgotten her nor since then have the study and intellectual pursuit of knowledge in Latin ever been far from my focal point of attention, and now the study of Greek has been added."

Our national president has so many activities and interests that it is difficult to name them. Her academic interests extend to politics and social awareness. She was state Co-Chairman of Youth for Goldwater and she is Southeastern College Director of

Greetings to Members of Eta Sigma Phi

Latin, and later Greek, has been a vital part of my person since that day in ninth grade when I entered a classroom to begin the study of Latin. With the teacher's first words: "Latin may not always be fun, but it never fails to satisfy and fulfill," which are still so vivid in my memory, the fire within me was lit which now can never burn out.

As I continued and developed in my study of Latin, the aura of unpopularity and semi-scorn which surrounds a vigorous interest in this field became clearer and clearer. And yet not only was I drawn to Latin by the subject matter but also by the stability and healthy individualism which I found among Latin scholars, both professors and students. Their subject lent them the spirit of permanence and an even, sustaining power in the rapidly changing world around them. Assuredly this is what was meant by William Riley Parker in his "The Case for Latin," which I should like to apply as well to Greek:

Education that neglects the past is unthinkable, suicidal. Preoccupied as we may be with the present, we need roots in order to survive and grow. One of the purposes of education has always been, and always must be, to make us fully cognizant of our roots — the continuum of our culture, our immense debt to the past, and the blessed timelessness of so much of our literary, artistic, and political heritage.

Latin . . . offers a demonstrably valuable experience, and, studied to the point of reasonable competence, it offers also an educationally unique experience: a sense of our relevant past, cultural and linguistic. (CLASSICAL JOURNAL 60 (1964), 4f, 7)

All of us as students of the classics have an obligation to fulfill in passing on our knowledge just as it was given to us. Our purpose may vary from a truly deep love for a continual closeness to the historic material to a concern for the welfare of our country. But, in any case, whether in the role of a professor, a parent, or a friend, the task is the same. I leave you with this challenge, again in the words of Professor Parker: "Let us have better, truly modern instruction in this ancient language, so that our past can contribute more vitally to our future. American boys and girls, hopeful heirs to the best in Western civilization (whether or not they yet realize it), deserve nothing less at our hands." (ibid 9 f)

Sarah Uzzell

Young Republicans. She has served on the annual staff, been a member of the Christian Association Board, the Judicial Council, the Lecture Committee, and the Debate Club. She is a member of Mortar Board. She also plays hockey and volleyball. Of her interesting summer Miss Uzzell says: "I have just returned from a wonderful summer in the Old Faithful Area of Yellowstone National Park. My job as a waitress and as a member of the Christian Ministry Staff kept me extremely busy, but this, together with many new activities and experiences during my time off added up to a summer never to be forgotten."

Miss Uzzell also tells of her future plans in these words: "As for my future, I feel as though I may have been called to teach, but my main interest lies in the field of archaeology. So at the moment I am sure that I want to get in some practical 'digging' experience before reentering the classroom."

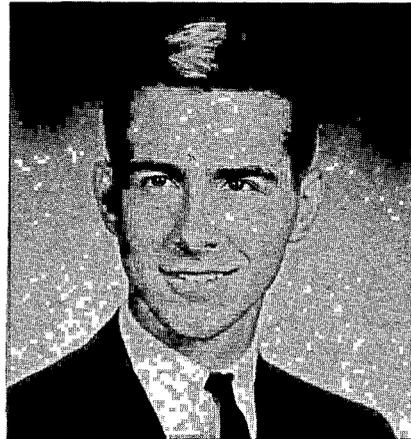

Other Members of Grand Executive Council

MEGAS HYPARCHOS B. LOUIS BRIEL, JR., is a senior at Hampden-Sydney College and a Latin major. His first introduction to Latin was in his freshman year at Douglas Southall Freeman High School in Richmond, Virginia, where he studied Latin for four years and represented his school twice in the state Latin tournament. His high school honors included election to the National Honor Society and membership in the top ten percent of his class.

"Upon entering Hampden-Sydney," Mr. Briel tells us, "I continued my study of Latin and my fondness for the civilization and languages of the Ancients has increased ever since. At the end of my sophomore year I declared a major in Latin and at present I am also taking courses in Greek and German. In 1963 I was elected to Beta Theta Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi and am serving as Prytanis this year. At Hampden-Sydney I have worked as a library assistant, as student grader in the Classics, Bible and biology departments, and as cover artist for THE RECORD, Hampden-Sydney's alumni magazine. During the summer of 1964 I received a grant to stay at Hampden-Sydney to study Latin palaeography and the two previous summers I worked as a teller for the Bank of Virginia in Richmond." Mr. Briel has been a first dean's list student and currently ranks number one in his class.

Mr. Briel comments on his use of his spare time and his plans as follows: "My chief avocation is painting portraits in oils from which I have derived much satisfaction and enjoyment. After graduation from Hampden-Sydney in 1966 I hope to go on to Harvard University in pursuit of a Ph. D. This will lead me toward a career in teaching Classics on the college level."

MEGAS CHRYSOPHYLAX JAMES H. PACE, a senior at Birmingham-Southern College, was graduated from Albert G. Parrish High School at Selma, Alabama, his native city. While he was a student there, he was active in the Junior Classical League and was business manager of the yearbook.

Mr. Pace is a Latin major and a most enthusiastic supporter of classical studies. He is studying Greek for the second year. As Prytanis of Pi Chapter at Birmingham-Southern College he attended the national convention last year and his enthusiastic report of his experiences at that meeting won for him reelection to the highest office of the chapter for a second year. He is a member of Kappa Alpha Order for which he has served as Corresponding Secretary and at the present time he is Social Chairman.

Mr. Pace's extra-curricular activities have kept him busy throughout his college career. At the end of his freshman year he was elected to Triangle Club, an honorary organization for freshmen. He is a member of Circle K and the Men's Residence Council and Vice-president of the Interfraternity Council. He is Managing Editor of the HILLTOP NEWS, the college newspaper. During his junior year Mr. Pace was elected to Omicron Delta Kappa and now serves as the Vice-president of the Birmingham-Southern College Circle. Last summer he attended summer school and found this more rewarding than the physical labor which he had done the summer before.

His interest in the Classics has been enlarged recently to include an additional interest in archaeology. He has been invited by a member of the Department of Religion to assist in an archaeological expedition at Megiddo next summer and hopes to be able to participate. His hobbies are many but his favorites are fishing and stamp collecting. Mr. Pace plans to enter graduate school in the fall and receive his Ph. D. before he begins his career as a college teacher of Latin and Greek. This interest has given him a new hobby, applying for graduate scholarships and fellowships.

MEGAS GRAMMATEUS TRUDIE KLEENER is a member of Lambda Chapter at the University of Mississippi. Neither her biographical account nor her photograph has been made available for this issue.

Thirty-Eighth National Convention

The Thirty-eighth National Convention of Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity will be held April 1 and 2, 1966, at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Buffalo, New York. Prytanis Francis M. Lazarus and the members of Delta Beta Chapter at Canisius College have completed many of the arrangements for the meeting. The plans for the delegates include a trip to Niagara Falls on the afternoon of April 1. You will remember that the Constitution provides that each chapter must be represented at a national meeting once each six years, but each chapter is urged to send delegates as often as possible. Now is the time to begin your plans for sending your delegates to the meeting at Buffalo.

Subject for Essay Contest

The subject for the essay to be submitted in the annual Eta Sigma Phi Essay Contest is "Euripides' Portrayal of Man's Irrationality." Announcements concerning the contests will be forwarded to the chapters in the near future but the essay topic is announced at this time to permit those who wish to participate in the contests to begin work on the essay without delay. The maximum length of an essay is 2250 words. Contest papers must be postmarked not later than March 1, 1966.

Alumni News

Paul R. Bannes, our Megas Prytanis of last year, was awarded an assistantship in the Department of Classics at the University of Missouri where he will work for his M. A. and teach a class in Intermediate Greek. Paul was grateful for the prize which he won in our Greek Translation Contest last year, which he says was both a great honor and also of great benefit. He comments: "To sum up my feeling of indebtedness to Eta Sigma Phi is difficult, because the best of what I have received from the Fraternity is measured in intangible units alone and can be repaid best in like manner."

The latest news from Barbara Payton-Wright, our retiring Megas Grammateus, was that she was going to Houston, Texas, to seek her fortune in the business world.

Karelisa Voelker, Eta Sigma Phi Scholar to Athens last summer, is at the University of Chicago, working for a M. A. under the Ford Foundation plan. "My original intentions," she writes, "were to complete my study here at the end of the summer and so begin teaching next year; at the moment I am considering continuing work for the Ph. D. at once." Miss Voelker has sent us an interesting resume of her summer in Greece, which we shall publish in the next issue of NUNTIUS.

Robert K. Bohm, Eta Sigma Phi Scholar to Rome in the summer of 1964, spent part of his summer as supply preacher and has returned to Princeton Seminary to continue his studies. He begins a letter about his most recent summer "How flat and dull this summer has seemed in comparison with last year." Bob's unflinching sense of humor was of great value to him in pursuing his pastoral duties which included some interesting situations, such as a congregation of only four members and a fainting member of the choir.

Alumni of Beta Zeta Chapter: Carol Bodlovis received a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship and is studying at St. Louis University. Kathy Markway, Prytanis of 1964, received her M. A. last May from St. Louis University, where she had studied on a Woodrow Wilson Fellowship, and is now beginning work on her Ph. D. at the University of Illinois. Dan Sheerin is doing graduate work at the University of North Carolina on a fellowship and Casey Fredericks is studying at the University of Pennsylvania on a fellowship in Latin.

Alumnae of Beta Omicron Chapter: Kathleen Cahill was awarded a $3000.00 grant by Northwestern University where she will continue her study of Latin and Greek. Judy Briggs received her M. A. from the University of Toronto and is now working on her Ph. D. in philosophy. Marianne Jansen, Megas Grammateus for Eta Sigma Phi in 1956-57 and our Eta Sigma Phi Scholar to Rome in 1961, now Mrs. Robert Spicuzza, is teaching in the Milwaukee School System.

Beta Beta Chapter Reactivated

Beta Beta Chapter at Furman University, Greenville, South Carolina, was reactivated on October 21, 1965, at which time members were initiated and officers elected. Professor Benny R. Reece, Chairman of the Department of Classical Languages at Furman University and an alumnus of Beta Rho Chapter at Duke University, reorganized the dormant chapter. Professor Reece was assisted in initiating the new members by Dr. Olivia Futch, an alumna of Eta Chapter, Florida State University, and Mr. David Peacock of Beta Iota Chapter, Wake Forest College. Professor Albert Tibbs, Chairman of the Humanities Division of Furman University and a part-time member of the Department of Classical Languages in Greek, was made an honorary member of the chapter. The chapter plans to initiate additional members in February.

The omens seem to be favorable for the reactivation of several other inactive chapters in the near future. We hope that our augur has not been looking at the wrong half of the sky.

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Professor H. R. Butts
 Birmingham-Southern College, Birmingham, Alabama 35204

From Your Editor . . .

Lack of space, not of appreciation, prevented our acknowledging our debt to the members of our Board of Trustees who retired at the time of our last national convention, Professor Paul R. Murphy of Gamma Chapter, Ohio University, who retired after three terms, and Professor Norman T. Pratt, Jr., of Theta Chapter, Indiana University, who retired after one term. All members of Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity are truly grateful for the loyal and helpful contributions which these scholars made to our Fraternity. Professor Murphy attended all but two national conventions during his nine-year tenure and each time brought members of his chapter. Both assisted in the managing of the finances of the Fraternity and in other matters under the jurisdiction of our Board of Trustees. Although we shall not be able to make use of their services in executive capacity, Eta Sigma Phi will still profit from their leadership and inspiration through their work in their local chapters. Omnes vobis maximas gratias agimus et habemus.

NEW ADVISERS

It is a pleasure to introduce and welcome the following new advisers who have recently become members of our collegium suorum:

Alpha Mu Chapter: Professor Richard M. Krill will advise Alpha Mu Chapter at the University of Missouri, as announced by Professor Fordyce Mitchel, Chairman of the Department of Classical Languages. Professor Krill has close ties with Eta Sigma Phi, since he is the son-in-law of Professor William C. Korfmacher of Beta Zeta Chapter, Saint Louis University, former Executive Secretary and member of the Board of Trustees of Eta Sigma Phi.

Gamma Epsilon Chapter: Professor Paul Plass, who was initiated into Gamma Epsilon Chapter at the University of Wisconsin as an undergraduate several years ago, has returned to his alma mater as a member of the faculty of the Department of Classics and will advise Gamma Epsilon Chapter. Professor Plass is an experienced adviser, since he advised Alpha Omicron Chapter at Lawrence University for one year. Professor J. P. Heironimus, who served faithfully as adviser of Gamma Epsilon Chapter for so many years, will continue, we feel certain, to inspire the members of the chapter. Your editor is deeply indebted to Professor Heironimus for his assistance in the work of the Fraternity and for his devotion to Eta Sigma Phi, which made Gamma Epsilon Chapter a success through the years.

Delta Lambda Chapter: Professor Joseph M.-F. Marique, S. J., who organized Delta Lambda Chapter at the College of the Holy Cross, has taken over the duties of adviser from Professor Gerard B. Lavery, who has been appointed Director of the Special Studies Program.

The National Office looks forward to a pleasant association with these new advisers.

Endowment Fund

Beta Omicron Chapter at Mount Mary College, Milwaukee, Wisconsin, is the first chapter to make a contribution to the Endowment Fund since the beginning of the present academic year. In addition to its present gift of $25.00 Beta Omicron Chapter has made two previous gifts. Although each issue of NUNTIUS may seem to contain this statement, it is appropriate to say it again: There is an urgent need to increase the Endowment Fund to $20,000.00 to make our scholarship program self-supporting.

AMONG THE CHAPTERS

GAMMA

Ohio University

Professor Paul R. Murphy, who recently retired from our Board of Trustees after serving three terms, is a co-author of THE LATIN POETRY OF GEORGE HERBERT, A Bi-lingual Edition, published by the Ohio University Press. The book contains the Latin and Greek poems of George Herbert with an English translation by one of Professor Murphy's colleagues.

Gamma Chapter initiated six new members at the close of last year. Professor Harry A. Hultgren is Adviser of Gamma Chapter and Teresa Ann Miller was Prytanis at the time of the initiation.

THETA

Indiana University

Professor Edward M. Michael, Adviser of Theta Chapter, sent the National Office a copy of the program of the Fourth Summer Conference for High School Latin Students, a most impressive program which was very attractive in appearance. There were two sessions, June 27 to July 3 and July 11 to 17. The Conference was sponsored by the Department of Classics at Indiana University. Professor Norman T. Pratt, Chairman of the Department and a retiring member of our Board of Trustees, Professor Michael, Professor Edwin S. Ramage, a former Adviser of Theta Chapter, and Professor Gertrude Ewing, a member of our Board of Trustees and Adviser of Gamma Alpha Chapter at Indiana State University, were lecturers during the Conference. Professor Michael advises us that he has additional copies of the program which he will distribute to you if you address a request to the National Office.

PI

Birmingham-Southern College

At its first regular meeting for the new year the members of Pi Chapter enjoyed a scholarly lecture on the Philistines by Dr. Max Miller, Professor of Religion at Birmingham-Southern College and a member of Eta Sigma Phi. A business meeting had been held earlier to discuss plans for the year and to elect a representative to the Miss Southern Accent Pageant, at which Miss Southern Accent and her court are chosen to appear in the annual. Prytanis James H. Pace, the Megas Chrysophylax of the Fraternity, presided at both meetings.

ALPHA DELTA

Agnes Scott College

Three new members were initiated into Alpha Delta Chapter on October 14. Suzanne Scoggins, Prytanis of the Chapter, comments as follows on the initiation and the chapter's activities: "Our initiation this year was the best I have seen. Organization finally paid off, the signs were finally spelled right, and everything was ready on time and as described in the ritual with the possible exception of our new avant-garde owl, the contribution of a member, which drew several favorable comments. The faculty members and Mrs. Young's husband, who is a Professor of Ancient History at Emory University, were guests of the chapter at dinner afterwards. The gathering was very gemütlich and elicited invitations from our Adviser, Professor Glick, to picnic at her house again (that event was the highlight of last spring quarter) and from Dr. and Mrs. Young to meet at their home in February. We felt that the whole affair had been very delightful and profitable and hope we can carry on so, although we are at present somewhat at a loss for program ideas, but Dr. Young suggested that we should present a movie spectacular and follow it with a panel of critics to point out anacronisms and other defects. We hope our enthusiasm carries through." With such an auspicious beginning we believe that the chapter will have a very successful year.

ALPHA EPSILON

Lehigh University

Professor Joseph A. Maurer, Adviser of Alpha Epsilon Chapter, has advised the National Office that the chapter will begin paying the $7.00 initiation fee this year. The chapter was planning to initiate a new class in October.

ALPHA TAU

Ohio State University

Patricia McCoy, Prytanis of Alpha Tau Chapter, reports that her chapter held two initiations last year. Professor Mark P. O. Morford, who is now Adviser of the chapter, was made an honorary member of the chapter. Ten members were initiated at the May meeting.

ALPHA CHI

Tulane University

Alpha Chi Chapter has successfully survived the attack of hurricane Betsy, although the city of New Orleans suffered great damage, and Professor Graydon W. Regenos, Adviser of the Chapter, was looking forward to a successful year at the beginning of the new academic year. The enrollment in the Latin classes in the Department of Classical Languages has increased again this year at both Tulane University and Sophie Newcomb College.

BETA ZETA

Saint Louis University

Elizabeth M. Folger, Grammateus of Beta Zeta Chapter, makes the following comments about her chapter: "We have now held our first meeting of the school year, where the members discussed plans for coming activities. We will present our seventh annual film production November 12 and 13 in the University Theatre; our features will be Melville's Billy Budd and Hemingway's The Old Man and the Sea, both outstanding productions. Our film presentations have been delightfully successful in the past, so we are looking forward to this event. We are also planning at least one other serious presentation on campus this semester, which we have not decided on as yet, besides the annual Christmas party. Second-semester activities will include the annual initiation of new members and chapter banquet, the Latin contest for students in local high schools, possibly a lecture and our spring picnic. Last May Father Heithaus gave a very interesting lecture accompanied by slides of some of the ruins of classical civilizations in the Middle East."

BETA OMICRON

Mount Mary College

At the meeting of the chapters of Eta Sigma Phi in the state of Wisconsin last spring Mount Mary College was the host chapter. The program for the meeting was a very beautiful work of art done by Sister Mary Dorothea, the Adviser of the chapter, and the members of the chapter. The program cover was a block print of an Etruscan flute player. The cakes and cookies served as refreshments were imprinted with Eta Sigma Phi in frosting.

BETA PSISouthwestern at Memphis

We regret to announce that Beta Psi Chapter will be inactive this year. It is our hope that it will be reactivated within a year.

GAMMA DELTAYeshiva University

Grammateus Harold Bell's interesting account of the March meeting of Gamma Delta Chapter includes the following: "The meeting was called to order by Prytanis Moshe J. Bernstein. The meeting was held in the office of the Society's adviser, Dr. Louis Feldman, who represented the Classics Department. The purpose of the meeting was the induction of three new members to the Society, Richard Hochstein, Harold Bell, and Irwin Geller, who met the requirements of "B" or better in nine credits of classical languages at Yeshiva College, or the equivalent. Each new member also took part in the initiation—Mr. Bell and Mr. Hochstein revising the Latin and Greek translation, respectively, of Chapter 53 of Isaiah according to Jewish Tradition, and Mr. Geller presenting his Latin-Yiddish dictionary. At this point Prytanis Bernstein, who prior to the start of the meeting was the only member of the Society, resigned as Hyparchos, Grammateus, and Chrysophylax, which offices he also had held. By the classical custom of drawing lots (Purim, the Jewish Feast of Lots, was also then approaching) the following new officers were chosen: Mr. Hochstein, Hyparchos; Mr. Bell, Grammateus; and Mr. Geller, Chrysophylax. The Society had reason to rejoice when it was pointed out that its membership had been increased by three hundred per cent. Refreshments were prepared by Mr. Geller, Chairman of the refreshment committee, and Mr. Bell, his assistant, who acted as magistri bibendi."

GAMMA THETAGeorgetown College

It is a pleasure to report the activities of Gamma Theta chapter for last year at the beginning of this year, as reported by Grammateus Betty Mitts at the end of last year: "At the beginning of this fall (1964), Gamma Theta Chapter of Georgetown College undertook its yearly activities with a faithful membership of three. In order that we might interest and eventually recruit more stalwart Latin scholars, in October we invited all Latin and Greek students to come and 'Visit Italy with Dr. George Redding' and stay for refreshments of punch and cookies. After Dr. Redding's talk we answered questions about our organization and encouraged students to work toward this goal. We held our pledge service on March 17 and our formal initiation for these pledges on April 1. We are now proud to report that Gamma Theta Chapter of Eta Sigma Phi numbers five active and three honorary members. The initiation was held in the Student Union Building. Later in the evening the two new actives, Evelyn Olin and Michael Walz, the three new members, and the sponsor enjoyed the annual initiation banquet at the Tates Creek Country Club in Lexington, Kentucky. Eta Sigma Phi entertained all Latin majors and minors with a tea at the house of our sponsor, Mrs. Ruth Longacre, in Lexington, on April 20. The purpose of the tea was to arouse interest in the Classics and answer questions concerning our work. The tea was very successful and Gamma Theta Chapter recommends this to other chapters. At graduation we presented awards of distinction in Latin to both college and local high school students."

GAMMA KAPPAHeidelberg College

For the first time in almost two years the National Office has received a communication from Gamma Kappa Chapter, which was most welcome. Jean Metzger, Chrysophylax of the chapter last year, who is now at Scarritt College in Nashville, Tennessee, informs us that eight members were initiated in May 1964 and four members in May 1965. Professor Frank Kramer, Adviser of the Chapter, has been on sabbatical leave but has returned to the College.

GAMMA LAMBDASaint Mary's College

Hyparchos Thomas J. Jennings and Chrysophylax James W. Lohr of Gamma Lambda Chapter have each sent communications to the National Office recently. Under the new officers the chapter is beginning an expanded program of activities. In outlining the plans "to make Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity a vital force on our campus," Mr. Lohr says: "We have already initiated a tutorial program for beginning students in Latin. Throughout the year we hope to bring to the campus speakers who will demonstrate the lasting values of the Classics. We also plan to present an introduction to the Greek and Roman theaters. We are expanding our high school Latin Contest, the one activity which the chapter promoted in former years, to include more students across a broader area of the Midwest." The chapter plans to solicit funds to carry on its activities from former members of the chapter.

GAMMA MUWestminster College

Judith A. Stebbins, Grammateus of Gamma Mu Chapter, informs us that five new members were initiated into the chapter on September 19 of this year.

GAMMA OMICRONMonmouth College

Grammateus Susie Wiseman of Gamma Omicron Chapter published the news letter which the chapter sends to its alumni twice each year on June 9. Among her comments are these: "Our chapter is helping to send Andy Adams, a Junior from Batavia, Illinois, for summer school at the Vergilian School at Cumae. Since January 1, 1965, our chapter has initiated fifteen new members. Our total membership is now twenty-five plus our advisers. We also had the honor of taking eight of our members to Normal, Illinois, to install a new chapter at Illinois State University. It was quite an experience for all of us. We had a very enjoyable time and made many new friends." One new member was initiated by Gamma Omicron Chapter on October 20.

DELTA ETASeton Hill College

Delta Eta Chapter initiated five new members on November 6. At this time two honorary members were also initiated. Sister Rose de Lima, Adviser of the chapter, wrote on September 30 that the chapter was off to a good start already and was planning the year's activities. The National Office was pleased to find that Delta Eta Chapter also is paying the new fee in advance of the official starting date.

DELTA IOTACollege of Saint Teresa

Sister M. Bede Donelan, Adviser of Delta Iota Chapter, reports that by the early part of October the chapter had held several business meetings to plan the work of the new year. Their plans include a speaker, a spring initiation for some of the very promising students, and a fund raising project to send delegates to the next national convention. She included an invitation for a future national convention to meet in Winona, where we have two active chapters of the Fraternity.

Awards in 1965 Contests

The following are the winners of awards in the 1965 Eta Sigma Phi Contests. The contest winners are listed below in order for each contest.

Twentieth Annual Essay Contest (Five entrants from three chapters): Patricia Majewsky, Beta Alpha Chapter; Melita Mueller, Beta Omicron Chapter; Therese Aukofer, Beta Omicron Chapter; Sister Mary Jude, I.H.M., Delta Gamma Chapter.

Fifth Annual Greek Prose Composition Contest (Eight entrants from six chapters): Jon Mikalson, Gamma Epsilon Chapter, received the first prize, but no additional awards were made in the contest, inasmuch as the other entries were not adjudged worthy of an award.

Fifteenth Annual Latin Translation Contest (Forty-five entrants from twenty-two chapters): Paul Kadull, Delta Lambda Chapter; Joseph F.

Hoffmann, Gamma Iota Chapter; Lawrence D. Crowson, Pi Chapter; Frank Silvestri, Beta Tau Chapter; Daniel J. Sheerin, Beta Zeta Chapter.

Chapter Foreign Language Census: First place was awarded to Delta Delta Chapter, University of Alberta, on the record of Judith L. Kales. Second place: Delta Lambda Chapter, College of the Holy Cross, on the record of Robert L. Cox. Third place: Psi Chapter, Vanderbilt University, on the record of Frank Carter Philips, Jr., and Gamma Phi Chapter, Le Moyne College, on the record of Robert A. O'Brien.
