FELLOW MEMBERS:

At the commencement of this academic season, it appears that Eta Sigma Phi is again ready to resume and expand its activities as the National Honorary Classical Fraternity. Already we are in the process of initiating some immensely needed changes that we hope will update Eta Sigma Phi; the first will be the complete renovation of the initiation ritual. This task has been most graciously accepted by our newest chapter, Delta Phi, of Southwest Missouri State College. They are going to be contacting various chapters, asking for ideas and suggestions on the new ritual. Your generous help and prompt response will be greatly appreciated by the national officers and especially by our eminent Delta Phi Chapter.

As most of you may realize, the present economic condition in our country has made itself felt even within the hallowed quarters of this organization. As a result, the publication of the Nuntius will necessarily be reduced to fewer times per year. At any rate, the strengthening of our financial condition in the coming year is to be desired. Several programs are currently being discussed by the Board of Trustees. Action on any positive outcome will be dealt with at the next National Convention. We would hope that it be possible for us to withstand the onslaught of inflation without another increase in annual dues and initiation fees.

Not so much on the business level, but perhaps just as pertinent to fraternity life, the following is in order. It is propounded as the president's humble opinion and is not meant to be stated in terrorem. As active members, we have taken an oath to "promote our classical heritage". Indeed much of our own culture is based upon the traditions gleaned from classical man. But what is important is that at times like the present in which international and domestic chaos lend themselves to the fabrication of instability, we must carefully watch our steps. These circumstances should bring home to us the promise to "promote our classical heritage", and we can do this by regarding justice as a guiding force in our lives. The concept of justice is perhaps the greatest gift given to us by antiquity, for justice is not specific, it applies to every human being. In short, no matter upon which side we find ourselves in any controversy that may arise, we should be aware of this gift and apply it always. What would most likely emanate from such actions on our part but peace?

The new Megas Prytanis is deeply appreciative of the high honor that has been accorded him in his election to his present position, and it is almost a belaboring of the obvious for him to acknowledge at once the splendid encouragement and assistance that have come to him from the Executive Secretary, the Chairman and Members of the Board of Trustees, and many wonderful individual faculty members and students of various Chapters in the Fraternity. With the hope that the following year is most successful for all, I remain

Fraternally Yours,

Stephen L. Bumgarner
Megas Prytanis

The new Megas Prytanis, Stephen L. Bumgarner, is a senior premedical student at St. Louis University, where he is majoring in Biology. Those who attended the national convention in St. Louis last spring will remember Steve as the gracious and hard-working convention chairman. He was also grammateus of Beta Zeta Chapter last year. Steve is also a member of Beta Beta Beta (Biological Honorary Society) and Oriflamme (St. Louis University's honorary service organization).

On the non-academic side, Steve's attention is divided among such activities as the Missouri Intercollegiate Student Legislature, St. Louis University's Choral, and the Pre-medical Club. Of particular interest and gratification to Steve is his involvement as a teacher in a tutorial program for underprivileged students in a St. Louis ghetto area.

After graduation Steve plans to attend medical school. Eta Sigma Phi is fortunate to have as prytanis someone whose love of the Classics has led him to deep involvement in a field that is not his major.

ANNUAL REPORTS

GAMMA, Ohio University

Gamma Chapter had a late start this year. Our spring 1970 initiation was delayed by campus disturbances until the fall of 1970. Since that time we have committed ourselves to making our meetings more interesting. We invited speakers from various departments of our school as well as from other institutions. The focal points have been movies and slides followed by discussions. Our chapter was engaged in several other activities such as: buying books for the Vernon R. Alden Library to aid students in Classics and Archaeology, inviting area high school Classics students to the Campus for a program to introduce them to the classical tradition and the values of Eta Sigma Phi, and contributing to Dr. Richter's collection representing many phases of ancient history.

PI, Birmingham—Southern College

Pi Chapter met early in the year at the home of our present adviser, Samuel J. Pezzillo, for dinner and slides on Pompeii and Herculaneum. We were saddened in February by the death of Dr. Butts who was loved not only by the students of Classics, but by all the students of the school and the members of Eta Sigma Phi for whom he served long as Executive Secretary. The chapter will continue to give, as did Dr. Butts, Eta Sigma Phi medals to the best 2nd and 4th year students in each of the schools in the Birmingham area. This year we initiated fifteen new members into our chapter.

Megas Hyparchos Alexander C. Graham, Jr. is a senior majoring in Classics at Hampden-Sydney College where he is a member of Beta Theta chapter. Last year he served as a very efficient Megas Chryso-phylax. He has been historian and president of his class, treasurer of Sigma Nu, a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Omicron Delta Kappa, the Circle K Club, the Young Republicans Club, the Student Assembly and the school tennis team.

Sandy was awarded the David C. Watson Memorial Greek Prize at Hampden-Sydney and, most recently, a scholarship to study at Oxford University during the summer session of 1971. In the fall, he will work on a program of independent study concerning the Neo-classical tradition. Sandy plans a career in either business or law.

PSI, Vanderbilt University

A picnic at the home of our chapter grammateus, Anne Wall, kicked off the 1970-1971 school year for Psi Chapter. In addition to members and Classics department faculty, students enrolled in all language courses within the department attended as special guests. Three new members were initiated at a ceremony held in February. Following the initiation, two chapter members, Marilyn Green and Robert Bendt, showed slides from their fall semester in Rome at the Intercollegiate Center for Classical Studies. In April, a banquet and initiation ceremony was held, followed by a guest speaker. We closed out the year with a Spring picnic at which we elected new officers for the coming year.

ALPHA DELTA, Agnes Scott College

The Alpha Delta Chapter began its activities for 1970-71 with the annual initiation ceremony in October. Following the ceremony, the eight initiates were introduced to the old members and faculty advisors at a dinner meeting. We have been emphasizing attending outside lectures this year. The Atlanta Society of the Archaeological Society of America sponsored several interesting lectures, including Professor Homer A. Thompson, who spoke on "Homer and the Beginnings of Greek Architecture" and Professor Herbert W. Benario, whose topic was "Augustus and Cisalpine Gaul." Members of our chapter attended both of these lectures. Our own chapter presented several programs, including one by Miss Elizabeth Zenn, Classics professor at Scott, which compared art in the Roman Empire to art of the Baroque period in Europe. Other programs included a lecture on Roman clothing and a discussion of the relevance of Aristophanes' The Acharnians. A program on the Eleusinian mysteries, a dinner meeting at our sponsor's home, and a joint meeting with other Eta Sigma Phi chapters in the area were some of our activities in the spring.

ALPHA EPSILON, Lehigh University

An unusually crowded academic calendar at Lehigh University has forced us to curtail our activity this year. At our fall initiation, held December 9, we initiated four new members. The ceremony was followed by a Christmas banquet at the home of our faculty advisor. Programs for the year included a tutoring project designed to help elementary and junior high school students in our immediate area. This was conducted in a limited way, but successfully, with much appreciation expressed by the teachers in the schools involved.

ALPHA PI, Gettysburg College

The past year saw a continuation of the traditional chapter activities. After the National Convention in 1970 we sponsored our annual High School Latin Contest. The students participating performed unusually well, thus making the contest a great success. In May 1970, Dr. Kenneth Quinn from the University of Toronto was at Gettysburg to discuss Vergil and Catullus with the Classics majors as well as to present a lecture concerning Catullus and Cicero to the general public. Both appearances were very well received. Parties in May and December of 1970 at the homes of two of our advisors, Mr. Parks and Mrs. Pavlantos, respectively, afforded members relief from the pressures of studying for final examinations. Initiation rites and a banquet were held at the Dutch Pantry Restaurant in November, at which Dr. John Cummings from Wilson College gave an interesting slide presentation on several archaeological sites in Greece. Many of our members took part in a trip to Greece during January. Election of new officers and another High School Latin Contest in the spring finished the year's list of events of Alpha Pi Chapter.

BETA ALPHA, State University of South Dakota

Beta Alpha closed the 1969-70 school year with an initiation-recognition dinner at which four new members were initiated. At the start of the new school year, we said good-bye to Dr. Grace Beede, renowned classicist, who retired as chairman of the Department of Classics, and welcomed Dr. Brent Froberg as our new and capable chairman and advisor. Our first formal gathering was in November, at which time it was decided that we would once again make our annual contribution of $25 to the National Endowment Fund. In February, the members of Beta Alpha attended the annual Harrington Lecture, an academic highlight at the University of South Dakota. We also held an introductory meeting later in the month to inform prospective members about Eta Sigma Phi. As a result, we pledged several new members the following week. A classical lecture series has been initiated at our school under the direction of Dr. Froberg and Eta Sigma Phi. Its first presentation, a slide-lecture, was in April. A proposal to establish a Classical Club which would have Eta Sigma Phi as its nucleus, and which would give students ineligible for membership in the Fraternity an opportunity to participate in various activities of a classical nature, and, thus, foster interest in the Classics, is now under consideration. We ended the 1970-71 school year with a wine and cheese picnic and an initiation-recognition dinner.

Herman Robert Butts, Jr.

After a relatively short illness, Professor Herman R. Butts, Jr. died February 12, 1971 in Birmingham, Alabama. He was buried in the family plot in Vandalia, Missouri. He was unmarried. Surviving are one aunt and several cousins.

Professor Butts was born in Vandalia, Missouri on January 10, 1910, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Butts. He graduated from Vandalia High School in 1928, received the B.A. degree from the University of Missouri in 1932, and the M.A. and Ph.D. degrees from the University of Iowa in 1933 and 1942. His dissertation, "The Glorification of Athens in Greek Drama," was published in the Iowa Studies in Classical Philology. From 1936 to 1939 he was Professor and Head of the Department of Latin at State Teachers College, Kearney, Nebraska; from 1939 to 1942 and again during 1946-47 he was Instructor in Classics at the University of Iowa; and in 1947 he was appointed Professor and Chairman of Classics at Birmingham—Southern College, a position which he held until his death. He was a lieutenant in the United States Military Intelligence Corps from 1942 to 1946 and spent thirty months in the Pacific war theater, including seven months in Japan. During the summer of 1950 he studied at the American School of Classical Studies in Athens. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Eta Sigma Phi, Archaeological Institute of America, American Philological Association, American Classical League, American Association of University Professors, and Classical Association of the Middle West and South. For thirteen years (1955-1968) he was Executive Secretary of Eta Sigma Phi.

H.R., as he was affectionately known by everyone, devoted his life to humanistic education, to the Greek and Latin languages and cultures especially. He was a dynamic teacher and neither years nor educational trends could alter his firm faith or dim his enthusiasm. His record as Executive Secretary of Eta Sigma Phi will probably never be matched. With tireless devotion and cheerful sacrifice of his own time and energy he handled personally year after year with astounding aplomb and efficiency the innumerable and often perplexing tasks associated with the maintenance and growth of the fraternity. His unwavering faith in youth and in Eta Sigma Phi's educational goals, coupled with his enthusiasm and his natural aptitude for getting along well with everyone, enabled him to give courteous and helpful advice to more than seventy separate chapters and also to give attention to important and un-important details pertaining to the editing of the Nuntius, to the administration of translation contests, essay contests, and scholarship programs, to petitions for new chapters and their installation, to financial matters such as gifts, endowment fund, investments, and federal tax reports, to the planning, preparing, and refereeing of the annual meetings, and even to occasional prompting of officers and trustees regarding their obligations. H.R. was truly "Mr. Eta Sigma Phi."

At the memorial service in Birmingham a teacher who had been Professor Butts' colleague from 1947 to 1969 said: "I would not take anything for my association with him. He made the closing years of my career some of my most pleasant"; a student in his 1970 class said: "His classes were not so much lessons to be learned as they were experiences to be lived," and "He had a smile for everyone"; and the College chaplain said: "About once a year he would come to me privately and say "What do you need?" and each year I got a little more ambitious in answering that question." These are sample testimonies about a great and generous man to whom the Classics profession will ever be in great debt.

CONVENTION '71

Delegates to the 43rd annual national convention were treated to events ranging in time and space from the classical Athenian Parthenon to a 19th century Mississippi riverboat.

On March 26 Bob Brennan, Prytanis of Beta Zeta chapter, St. Louis University, welcomed representatives of 23 chapters to the first general session in the United States Room of Busch Memorial Center on the host campus.

The business meeting was opened by Megas Prytanis H. Lee Perkins. Delegates responding to the Roll of Chapters presented their annual reports; the reports of 9 chapters unable to attend were also presented. The report of the Megas Chrysophylax, Alexander Graham, was approved pending the recommendation of the Auditing Committee.

Prof. Theodore Bedrick, chairman of the Board of Trustees, made a report on the financial status of the fraternity. A total of $13,143.46 was reported. This is a decrease of $590.66 from last year; the decline was attributed to a drop in the asset value of the shares owned by us.

Next Dr. Mary Ann Burns presented the Report of the Executive Secretary. Her first item was a sad one for the members of Eta Sigma Phi. She reported the death of Prof. H. R. Butts who was Executive Secretary from 1955 to 1968. A memorial resolution from Prof. Oscar E. Nybakken, a member of the Board of Trustees, was read. (This resolution is reprinted on page 3). As a token of how much Prof. Butts will be missed by Eta Sigma Phi the convention paused for a minute of silent prayer.

Dr. Burns' report then continued with the announcement that we now have 78 active chapters. She suggested that because of the decrease in our income the Nuntius be published only in September and January. The national office is now handling the selling of the Eta Sigma Phi medals. Dr. Burns asked for suggestions in handling membership requirements in schools where credit/no credit grading systems are used.

A note on the scholarships followed. Jane E. Foster was awarded the Rome prize and Sandra J. Ewers the Athens. It was mentioned that the earlier publication of the Nuntius should increase the number of applications.

Then the Megas Hyparchos Delora Pelosi recommended the granting of charters to six schools. The motion passed and St. Olaf College, Macalester College, the University of Scranton, Centenary College, George Washington University and Thiel College were welcomed to Eta Sigma Phi.

After lunch the delegates reconvened at workshops conducted by members of the faculty of St. Louis University. Dr. Chauncey Finch illustrated his presentation on paleography with slides from the University's microfilms of the Vatican Manuscript Library. Rev. Claude Heithaus showed slides of areas around the Mediterranean in his talk on archaeology. Rev. Paul Distler discussed teaching high school Latin. Rev. John Welch conducted a workshop on literary criticism. St. Thomas More was the topic of a presentation by Rev. Marcus Hayworth. The workshops were offered 3 at a time to give the delegates a chance to attend two of them.

At the banquet that evening Rev. Heithaus gave away a piece of marble from the Parthenon to the possessor of a lucky number. After the dinner Steve Bumgarner as host and toastmaster introduced Rev. Walter Ong who gave a speech entitled "Classics and the Media: the Reconstitution of Thought by Writing in Antiquity."

The social highlight of the convention came later that evening as the delegates gathered on the Goldenrod Showboat docked on the Mississippi River. An oldtime melodrama and vintage movies formed the evening's entertainment.

The second general session convened on March 27. After one late chapter report Prof. Theodore Bedrick of the Committee on Contests reported this year's results. (See page 6).

The reports of the regional chairmen and of the Auditing Committee were accepted. The report of the Constitution committee was accepted later.

The Committee on Amendments then offered its suggestions. Faculty recommendation in schools lacking grading systems was offered as an amendment to the amendment of membership requirements presented at the 42nd convention. This motion was accepted as a proposed amendment. An amendment specifying requirements to be met by groups seeking

The Resolutions Committee offered thanks and congratulations to those whose work in St. Louis was responsible for the success of the convention and to those who worked hard for a successful year for Eta Sigma Phi. It also took sad note of the passing of Dr. Butts. Delora Pelosi as chairman of the Time and Place Committee reported the tentative offer by Gamma Kappa chapter, Heidelberg College of Tiffin, Ohio, to host the 44th national convention next year. Nominations to the Board of Trustees of Prof. Theodore Bedrick (for re-election) and Prof. William De Grummond of Florida State University were approved.

The final item of business for the convention was the election and installation of national officers for 1971-72. Those elected were as follows: Megas Prytanis - Steve Baumgarner; Megas Grammateus - Rosalyn Kulick; Megas Chrysophylax - Robert Rhodehamel. They were installed by Dr. Burns. The new Megas Prytanis and convention host Steve Bumgarner then adjourned the successful 43rd annual national convention.

CONVENTION '72

The 44th annual convention of Eta Sigma Phi will be held March 10 and 11, 1972 at Heidelberg College, Tiffin, Ohio at the invitation of Gamma Kappa chapter there. We are most grateful for this kind invitation extended by Professor Frank Kramer and chapter officer Della Louise Coon.

The central location of Tiffin (it is about 50 miles south-east of Toledo) should make it possible for many chapters to come. Dormitory rooms will be available to help keep expenses to a minimum. Motel rooms will also be available.

Professor Kramer and the members of the chapter are already hard at work to prepare a worthwhile and enjoyable convention. Complete details will be in the January issue but begin making your plans now to attend this convention. Remember that according to the constitution, a chapter must attend a convention at least once every six years. So plan to be there!

Reports, *continued.*BETA THETA, Hampden-Sydney College

This year Beta Theta has continued to foster its program of rejuvenating classical studies. On October 21, we initiated twelve new members. Later that month we were pleased to have as a speaker Dr. Willis from Duke who spoke on "The Rise of the Codex." In March, Dr. Bass, a professor in Classical Archaeology at The University of Pennsylvania, spoke to us about underwater Bronze Age archaeology. In an attempt to check the constantly decreasing interest in classical studies on the secondary level, we planned a Classics Emphasis Day for high school students in Virginia. We also held Latin contests in May at Prince Edward Academy. An April initiation ceremony for six new members, followed by the traditional chocolate punch reception at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Graves H. Thompson brought the school year to a successful close.

BETA IOTA, Wake Forest University

A fall meeting of the North Carolina Classics Association was held at Wake Forest with Beta Iota acting as host. Our members heard a series of informative lectures by Classics professors from prominent North Carolina universities, and ended the day with an enjoyable cookout. At another chapter meeting, Prof. Andornica, a member of our Classics department, presented slides of his visit to Rome. Our deepest gratitude and appreciation goes to Dr. C.B. Earp, former advisor of Beta Iota and long-time chairman of the Classics department, who retired at the close of the spring semester. Both faculty and students will miss her very much.

The remaining chapter reports will be printed in the January issue of Nuntius.

A New Chapter: Epsilon Alpha

Epsilon Alpha chapter at Centenary College of Louisiana was installed on May 6, 1971 with four charter members.

Centenary College, located in Shreveport, Louisiana, was founded in 1825 and has a present enrollment of about 1000. Latin has been taught there continuously, so a chapter of Eta Sigma Phi was long overdue! The department faculty consists of Dr. Theodore Beck, Chairman, and Mrs. Mary Curlin who is the chapter adviser. A major in Latin is offered as well as General Classics courses.

The four charter members of the chapter are Carole Murphy of Seabrook, Texas; Kathy Gray Tebbe of Shreveport, La.; Penny Spessard of Idaho Falls, Idaho, and Henry Le Blanc of Shreveport. Kathy, Penny and Carole are Latin majors while Henry is in Business. All have participated in Latin seminars and have pursued extensive research. Last semester Carole, Penny and Henry delved into the intricacies of Caesar's verbals in the Gallic and Civil Wars and Kathy proved her Latin prowess by doing George Orwell's commandments and philosophies of Animal Farm in well-styled Latin.

Eta Sigma Phi is happy to welcome this latest addition to its chapters and wishes it every success.
