New Orleans Is Convention City

Thirty-ninth National Convention of Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity will convene at 9:00 A. M. on Friday, April 7, 1967, in the Jackson Hotel of the Sheraton-Charles Hotel, New Orleans, Louisiana. Business meetings will be held on the afternoons of Friday, April 7, and Saturday, April 8, and the new officers for the coming year will be installed at the end of the meeting on Friday, April 7.

Alpha Chi Chapter at Tulane University is the host chap- lany to the convention. The officers of the chapter are: Malcolm A. Meyer, President; Susan Cash, and Reuben Friedman, Secretary-Treasurer. The Executive Secretary of Eta Sigma Phi, is the Adviser.

The members of the chapter will receive delegations to the convention on Friday afternoon at 4:00 P. M. in the University Center of Tulane University. The subscription ban- ner will be held on Friday night at the Sheraton-Charles Hotel. The banquet will be held on Friday night at the Sheraton-Charles Hotel.

Delegates will want to find some time for sightseeing in beautiful New Orleans. A tour of the city has not been arranged since the convention hotel is within walking distance of the Vieux Carre, the Mississippi River, and the modern city. A leisurely walk about the city with time to look into the numerous antique shops and enjoy coffee and maybe a lunch at the French Market will give the visitor a better opportunity to appreciate this historic city which had its beginnings in 1718 when the sieur de Bienville saw the advantages of a city in the great bend of the Mississippi River, from which location the city has received its modern cognomen of the Crescent City. The architecture in the Vieux Carre reflects the many changes in governments under which the city has been ruled, e. g. the Cabildo, dating from the late 1700's, with its Spanish arches and its later French Mansard roof. Its neighbor, the Basilica of St. Louis, built in 1794 but later remodeled, is one of the oldest and most famous churches in our country. American Classical League, to address the members of the convention. He has chosen as his topic "Classics and the Humanities." Professor Latimer of the Department of Classics at the George Washington University in Washington, D. C., has recently assumed his duties as Executive Secretary of the American Classical League, in which position he directs publicity for the combined classical organizations of the United States and promotes the study of Latin and Greek in American education. At the session on Saturday morning B. Louis Briel, Jr., our Eta Sigma Phi Scholar to the American Academy in Rome last summer, will tell of his experiences in Rome and Italy.

An innovation of this convention will be the workshops which Megas Pytantis Tosches has arranged for Friday afternoon. These will give the delegates an opportunity to share their experiences and ideas concerning phases of the work of the Fraternity, such as administration of local chapters, encouraging the study of Latin and Greek on the secondary level, programs, and related topics.

(Information taken from materials of New Orleans Tourist and Convention Commission, and Bulletin, Tulane University, Undergraduate Studies, 1967-1968.)

Invitations to the convention have been extended to Canada by the hosts. Reservations for rooms should be made at one of the hotels by means of the card which was enclosed with the invitations. The reservation slip for the banquet must be mailed to the National Office by April 1.

Chapters are reminded that a chapter is required to be represented by official delegates at a national convention each six years. Each chapter has been notified by the National Office of its record of attendance as recorded in that office. The Constitution also requires that a letter of regret be sent to the Executive Secretary or Mega Grammateus by each chapter which cannot send delegates and that this letter be accompanied by an annual report of the activities of the chapter. This year letters should be sent directly to the Executive Secretary. Each chapter which is officially represented at the Convention will be given, through its Mega, an opportunity to submit its annual report, which should be prepared in typed form and sent to the Mega Grammateus at the Roll Call of Chapters at the Business Meeting on Monday, April 7.

AMENDMENTS
The following amendments were passed by the Thirty-eighth National Convention and will be brought before the Thirty-ninth National Convention for final action:

1. Article XVI, Section 1, shall be amended to read as follows: "Any article of this constitution may be amended in the following manner: The proposed amendments shall be presented in writing at one annual convention and, if passed by a two-thirds majority of those entitled to vote, shall be submitted to the several active chapters for ratification by the end of that academic year after the convention adjourns. Upon ratification by two-thirds of the several active chapters, the amendment shall become effective as of the date of the Eta Sigma Phi Convention." (It is the opinion of the Executive Secretary that this must be intended to be added as a second paragraph to Article XIV, Section 1, of the constitution.)

Members of Eta Sigma Phi:

As convention time grows near, I once again urge you to continue your involvement in the classical movement.

As of this date the response from chapters to my earlier request for a list of past activities has not been as I had hoped. Needless to say we can only advance as a group in proportion to the cooperation of each member in each chapter. Effective use of the facilities of the National Office depends upon you and your willingness to assist us.

It is also my hope that as many of you as possible will be attending the National Convention. I for one shall be looking forward to meeting as many of you as possible and renewing the many acquaintances of past years. Our host chapter has been working hard to make the occasion a fruitful one for the Fraternity as well as a profitable one for our members in their beautiful spring quarter. Please accept my best wishes and those of the National Office for a productive and pleasant spring quarter.

Sincerely,

WILLIAM A. TOCZLES
Mega Prytania

IMPORTANT NOTICE
Orders for membership certificates which are desired before the end of the present academic year should reach the National Office by April 24. Because of the heavy load of work at the end of the school year Balfour is unable to give the usual service. Orders which reach the National Office after April 24 will be mailed during the summer or at the beginning of the new academic year. All initiates not yet reported to the National Office should be reported at once.
AMONG THE CHAPTERS

EPISLON
University of Iowa

Jean A. Orten, Gamma maternal of Epsilon Chapter, reports that "Epsilon Chapter officially began another year December 6, 1969, when we held an initiation meeting at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Oscar E. Nybacken. We initiated six undergraduates as active members and five graduate students as associate members. After the initiation ceremony Prytania David Drake presided over a brief business meeting in which we discussed our tentative plans for activities this year. We are planning to sponsor a Latin translation contest for local high schools this year. We have decided to include two or more levels of translation for the competition so that students on lower levels will have an opportunity to compete. We shall give individual students or small groups of students bronze medals on each level to recognize their participation. The translations will be judged by the judges of other campus groups. We have also decided to try to borrow a readers' theater from the Vergilian Society to present at one of our future meetings. In general, we are hoping to broaden our group to include alumni of the University of Iowa as well as students in the college of education."

GAMMA OMICRON
Monmouth College

Grantissci Betsy Athenlos of Gamma Omicron Chapter at Monmouth College reports that the annual Christmas letter to alumni of her chapter was written by the letter is given here: "At our October meeting our adviser, Professor Bernard, announced that a discussion of some of her experiences when she was in Italy last summer for the Senior Week on October 28 our chapter joined other campus organizations in presenting a booth showing some of the activities of our group. The booth contained a very interesting display of Roman and Greek items belonging to our members. For our November meeting Judy Schwindt showed some slides from Italy which she visited last summer with the Vergilian Society. In January dinner in honor of Dr. Peter Arnot, who will be visiting our campus. Another of our future projects is to help entertain the finalists in the Illinois State Latin Tournament which will be held on April 29. With the death of Charles Blair in September Gamma Omicron Chapter lost one of its most valuable members, the Christmas holiday. One activity, however, proved a popular event in our program of activities for the year. We held luncheons for the last two weeks of the month to guests who were the meader of the program. Immediately after our luncheon we held the first meeting of our Paper Reading Club. We will conclude the year with a summer meeting and a visit to the Vergilian Society in Rome.

GAMMA XI
Howard University

Gamma Xi Chapter plans to send representatives to the National Convention this year in the company of a letter from Professor Annette H. Eaton, Advisor of Gamma Xi Chapter. Professor Eaton writes the following: "This year we have been following the latest news of the activities of the chapter and have been very active this year as well as in several activities. We are very interested in its activities and in its success. We have had some very good meetings and hear some excellent talks by students who have spent the summer in Europe, Ethiopia, and Latin. Our study sessions are of great interest to us, and we are looking forward to more of them as opportunities arise."
Reactivation of Chapters

It is a pleasure to announce the reactivation of two of our chapters which have been inactive for a long period of time.

BETA Chapter at the Florida State University, Tallahassee, became active on October 19, 1966, when an initiation was held for the first time since 1953. Announcement of the reactivation of the chapter was delayed until approval was received from the Student Senate of the University. Carol Adams is the Prytania of the chapter and Ron Pollard its Chrysophylax. Mrs. Karen Lee Singh is the Adviser.

BETA GAMMA Chapter at the University of Richmond, Rich- mond, Virginia, held an initiation ceremony on January 12, 1967, and resumed active status in the Fraternity at that time. Distinguished Professor J. Ward Jones and Chrysophylax Thomas Stewart of Omeo Chapter, the College of William and Mary, Megus Chrysophylax Hartley Schaerer and Eddie R. Lowry, Jr., of Beta Theta Chapter, Hampden-Sydney College; and from the University of Richmond Professor Talbot R. Selby, Chairman of the Department of Classics, and Professors Iver P. Iversen and William C. Perrine, Megus Chrysophylax Schaerer served as Prytania for the installation ceremony. Professor Iversen was in charge of the reactivation of the chapter.

We welcome those chapters back into the Fraternity and wish them every success in the future.

ETA SIGMA PHI MEDALS

All chapters are encouraged to award Eta Sigma Phi medals in local high schools. Three medals are available from the Executive Secretary:

No. 1—Fourth Year Latin Award (silver, 1/2") $3.75
No. 2—Alternate Fourth Year Latin Award (silver, 1/2") $1.25
No. 3—Third Year Latin Award (bronze, 1/2") $1.25

Please allow three weeks for delivery.

The Convention Workshops

A noteworthy innovation at the '67 Convention was the establishment of workshops concerned with: (1) what we are doing to involve ourselves in the National Classics Movement; (2) what we are doing to strengthen ourselves as a National Fraternity; and (3) what our chapters are doing to spread the Classics in our immediate communities. It was enlightening to see a majority of the Convention delegates sacrificing their "unofficial" business time to attend the workshops and to see them participate with such enthusiasm and involvement. The first two areas, somewhat inter-changeable, presented several excellent, well-developed papers on the subject of Classics. A whole to act upon. I hope that the delegates at next year's Convention review these ideas. The third area was particularly interesting because it provided delegates with an opportunity to discuss the activities of chapters given in the reports presented at the first business meeting, and to explore additional activities which a chapter might implement. I would like to thank all who participated, and urge all chapters to consider the proposals of the workshop and to account of the workshop will be mailed to each chapter with the minutes of the Convention. Any further ideas are welcomed, and may be sent to newly elected MEGAS GRAMMATEUS John Armbrust, Daily Hall, St. Mary's College, Winona, Minn. 55987.

Respectfully Submitted,
TED BERKOLD

Report of the National Convention

Megas Prytania William A. Tosches convened the opening session of the Thirty-ninth National Convention at 9:00 A.M. on Friday, April 7, 1967, in the Jackson Room of the Sheraton-Charles Hotel in New Orleans, Louisiana. The delegates and visitors to the convention were welcomed by Hyparchos Solomon L. Lovenstein of the host chapter, Alpha Chi at Tulane University, Megus Hyparchos James W. Brodman replied for the Fraternity. Twenty-five chapters responded with their chapter reports to the roll call of chapters by Megas Grammataeus Theodore A. Berktold. Megus Chrysophylax N. Hartley Schaerer presented the report covering the general tenure of the Fraternity and Professor Grace L. Beede, the Representative of the Board of Trustees, read the reports of the Board of Trustees and the Scholarship Committee, of which she is a member. The Executive Secretary, Professor H. R. Butts, read his report at this time and announced that he must retire from this position at the next national convention.

The members of the convention transacted a number of items of business of major importance. The two amendments which were approved by a first reading at the Thirty-eighth National Convention were made a part of the Constitution. The revised Ritual was approved as the official Ritual of the Fraternity. The petition for a charter to found a chapter of Eta Sigma Phi at Saint Louis College, Philadel- phia, Pennsylvania, was approved. The petition from Florida Preby- terian College, Saint Petersburg, was given provisional approval but can not receive final action until ratification by the chapters of an amendment approved at the first
Eta Sigma Phi Scholars 1967

FRANCES MARTIN LAZARUS, an alumnus of the University of South Dakota, has been selected as one of the Eta Sigma Phi Scholar for 1967 to the American Academy in Rome. Members of the Thirty-fifth National Convention will remember him as our host who did so much to make that meeting a success. He is a native of Iowa, New York and was graduate from Canisius College last year magna cum laude. He was a Grammarus and Prytanis of Delta Theta Chapter, sports editor of the college yearbook, and a brigadier commander of R. O. T. C. He is now completing his first year of graduate study in Classics at Cornell University where he holds a scholarship.

NEW OFFICERS

Mr. Narley Schoener, retiring Megas Chrysophulos, a member of Beta Theta Chapter at Hampden Sydney College, is the new Megas Prytanis of Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity. He will be succeeded by Hyrachys David L. Thompson of Delta Beta Chapter at Canisius College. William M. Kahrs of Alpha Phi Chapter at University of Oregon, was appointed to the position of Delta Betar and, in addition, will assume the duties of Megas Prytanis of Eqetia Chapter. He is a graduate of Epsilon College University of Iowa and Chairman of the Board of Trustees, and Professor Grace L. Beede of Beta Alpha Chapter University of South Dakota, were re-elected to the Board of Trustees for a term of three years.

FORTIETH NATIONAL CONVENTION

Chicago, Illinois, will be the con current site of the Fortieth National Convention and the 1967 Eta Sigma Phi Fraternity Convention and the mem bers of the Delta Betar will be the hostesses. Gram mataeus Catherine Dix of Beta Xi toeora, but their names were not given in the chapter reports. Two other members of Delta Iota Chapter will do graduate work at Loyola University as graduate scholars.

Graduate Appointments

Members of Eta Sigma Phi bring their chapters through their appointments to graduate fellowships. Patricia Majewski of Delta Beta Chapter at Canisius College and one member of Delta Iota Chapter at the College of Saint Teresa, but their names were not given in the chapter reports. Two other members of Delta Iota Chapter will do graduate work at Loyola University as graduate scholars.

Activities of State Groups

some of the chapters sponsor activities as state groups and it is a pleasure to call these to your at tention. Other chapters which are located near one another might wish to continue to be as active in their activities and joint efforts would receive hearty approval from the National Office.

The Wisconsin chapters ha ve been quite active in the last few years, during the past year the two NESPAC chapters have been involved in an Angelia Beta Sigma Chapter at Marquette University sponsored the Colloquium this year which was an innovation since instead of the usual papers there was a group reading and discussion of Euripides' Electra, which was considered in the light of the recent presentation of Sophocles' Electra by the Milwaukee Repertory Thea tre. On March 19, 1967, the Delta St ate University sponsored a Colloquium to introduce junior and senior high school Latin students to the wide variety of college courses offered at the various state schools.

Students from fifteen high school attended for hour during the day by members of the faculty in Classics at Carroll College, Marquette Uni versity, University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire, and University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee.

A student from Beta Omicron Chapter at Mount Mary College, who is a native of Rhodes presented a lec ture on Greek Folk Dancing.

In Minnesota Gamma Lambda Chapter at Saint Mary's College, and in Minnesota Eta Chapter at the College of Saint Teresa have cooperated for two years in presenting the Minnesota State University some ambitious program which presents the values of the Classics to high school students. The students and teachers participated in the Weekend this year.

Hubris and Hippolytus

by

T. J. Falkner

This article, which first appeared in PHOS, Vol. II, No. 1 (Second Series), 16 j (Le Moyne College, 1965), is reprinted here by permission of the editors, William J. Duane and John M. Delaney. In more at Le Moyne College, is a Classics major who is on the Dean’s List, and a member of Gamma Phi Chapter. His chief outside interest is a band, The Eleventh Hour, for which he sings, as well as plays organ and guitar.

"Nothing to excess" meant a lot more to the Greeks than physical temperrance. To be the "balanced man" was the ideal. In his greatest goals for which the Greeks could strive, and this fact was obvious in all fields of creative endeavor: the perfect smoothness and grace of their sculpture, the "golden mean" of Aristotle's philosophy, and the constant insistence on moderation in the "Golden Age" literature. Perhaps the best example of this moral concern is Euripides’ Hippolytus.

In Hippolytus itself we find a pride and a self-conceit that not only damns him to a death called "benign", but which sets a character with the life of his stepmother. His refusal to give even nominal rewards for his stepmother's love, goddess Aphrodite, constituted perhaps the most heinous imbalance in Greek, and the relentless pride in his actions makes him a character worthy of phallogratic as dramatic study.

Nowhere is Hippolytus' pride more evident than in the title of the essay is from Warren, Rex, Three Great Plays, New York, New American Library. With this dedication he places before a statue of Artemis, the goddess of virginity, he says, "For alone of men am so distinguished as to be able to speak and hear your words." (The translation used here and in the rest below is from "The Classical Association of Virginia and are also active in a tutoring program in the community one Hampden-Sydney, Professor J. Ward E. Ball, was presented at a public lecture on the cave at Spero- lgia."

BETA LAMBDA

Members of the chapter prepared, administered, graded tests in mythology, vocabulary, and Roman history for high school students at the state level and for National Latin League meeting in February. The chapter plans to award medals to the best students in Latin who stimulate interest in Latin in Salina."

BETA MU

By order of the manager, Mr. Helene Wampfler described the library to the students; to the school for high school Latin students which has his been working for the past year. This team, which is designed for twelve Indian honors students selected through personal interviews, will stay first in Rome, then have a ten-day trip to Athens, and a three-week course of study at the Vanderbilt School at Cambridge. Members of the chapter attended the annual meeting of the Association of Middle West States, of which some sessions were held on the campus of Butler University.

BEITA XI Rosary Academy
At the December meeting the faculty members met for dinner and then saw films of the Sophexes and Schools. The films were followed by a discussion sponsored by an Italian opera.

BETA OMICRON Mount Mary College
The members attended the meeting of the Wisconsin Latin Teachers Association at the new public museum and were introduced to the small but valuable Greek and Roman collection. This was the first time that the college has been involved in activities with the other language departments. During Foreign Language Week, the college sponsored an evening of Italian opera.

BETA SIGMA Marquette University
In February Beta Sigma Chapter sponsored the colloquium of the Wisconsin chapters.

BETA EPSILON Marshall University
Etta Sigma Phi at Marshall University combines most of its activities with the Alpha Chapter, an organization for all students interested in classical studies. This year regular discussions have dealt with mythology, beginning with world mythology and the psychology of mythology, a concentration on Greek and Roman mythology.

GAMMA ALPHA Indiana State University
For some members of Gamma Alpha Chapter the end of their studies' activities will come with the eighth week summer study abroad in Rome and other parts of Italy, under the guidance of Professor Joan Madsen.

GAMMA BETA Bowling Green State University
Latin classes at Bowling Green State University are taught in Latin. Professor Mays encourages the students to attempt to speak in the language and students are now responding and trying to grasp the Latin. A Gamma Mu chapter will assist in the annual meeting of the Toledo Area Classical Association.

GAMMA GAMMA University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee
Members of Gamma Gamma at Milwaukee have challenged the campus contests which they hold in high school, and in the National scholastic competitions which are extended to public and private high schools in and around the city.

GAMMA THETA Georgetown College
The fall project of Gamma Thetata Chapter this year has been the attempt to establish an honor society society in the campus for graduating seniors with scholastic excellence. At the end of the school year the chapter will hold a tea for the eligible students.

GAMMA KAPPA Heidelberg College
Gamma Kappa Chapter has enjoyed a series of lectures by guest speakers who have been invited to the campus. One of these was a joint meeting with Phi Alpha Theta, the American fraternity for students of history.

GAMMA LAMBDA Saint Mary's College
The annual High School Latin Contest which Gamma Lambda Chapter sponsored was expanded and approximately five hundred students in the Upper Midwest region participated. The same number of high school students attended the second annual Minnesota Classics Week which was held on the campus of Saint Mary's. The chapter holds two memberships in the Minnesota Historical Association and the Archæological Institute of America and members of the chapter are active in the field of classics.

GAMMA MU Westminster College
Gamma Mu Chapter has expanded with the help of Professor Phi Alpha, the honorary fraternity for students of classics. A series of lectures by guest lecturers has been arranged. The chapter plans to extend these joint activities in the future.

GAMMA XI Howard University
Members of Gamma XI Chapter have been working with the new sixth grade Latin program in the public schools of Washington, D.C., and are preparing first-year visiting classes, making new curriculums and helping to work out the material being used in the program.

This has meant research into Roman daily life, which has proved most productive for the members.

GAMMA OMICRON Monmouth College
Gamma Omicron Chapter arranged a display of items from Greece and Rome for visitors to the Illinois High School Latin League who will be participating in the School Latin Tournament, when they will proctor the examinations, attend to housing the three hundred participants, and arrange their transportation.

GAMMA SIGMA University of Minnesota
Gamma Sigma Chapter has been especially successful in carrying out an effective program under Prystyn Owen Clayton. One of the successful activities has been a series of public programs on Classical subjects at which members of the Department of Classics spoke on topics such as the value of Classical studies for modern man, modern structural linguistic approach to the teaching of Latin and Greek, Classical themes in modern literature, and modern translations in Classical literature.

GAMMA PHI Le Moyne College
PHOS, a magazine devoted mainly to the classics, is published by the Department of Classics at Le Moyne College. This year two issues have appeared under the editorship of John W. A. and J. J. Dunn. This is an excellent magazine and the issues this year have been especially fine and also attractive in appearance. The first issue is devoted to Greek tragedy but the second had articles on various topics. The chapter will again hold an annual Latin tea for high school students of third and fourth year Latin.

DELTA GAMMA Marywood College
A major activity of the year for Delta Gamma has been the Classics Forum of the Rattery Latin Memorial Contest for high school Latin students, which took the form of a Latin College Bowl. The chapter presented "The Spirit of Rome," a musical play, and invited students to the faculty and general student body.

DELTA EPSILON Bethune College
Members of Delta Epsilon Chapter have been considering ways to make the image of the chapter more prominent on the campus. It sponsored a booth, "The Oracle at Delphi," at the SGA carnival. It has sent delegates to special programs of other chapters of Eta Sigma Phi in the area.

DELTA ZETA Coyote Valley
Delta Zeta Chapter is attempting to stimulate interest in Classical studies on the high school level. It is sponsoring two Latin contests in local high schools, one for second and fourth year students, and in each contest three winners will be chosen.

DELTA ETA Seton Hill College
Members of Delta Eta Chapter will award annually a twenty-five dollar savings bond to the graduating senior with the highest number of points in Latin and Greek during her four years at Seton Hill College. The award will be known as the Eta Sigma Phi Award. Beginning in 1968 the college will conduct an Institute of eight weeks of summer study and travel in Greece for which eight credits may be earned in Greek archaeology, art, architecture, and literature.

DELTA IOTA
College of Saint Teresa
Delta Iota Chapter has sponsored lectures on Medieval Latin Drama and Vergil's Cumaean. The members of the chapter, Gamma Phi, have a Lambda Chapter in the preparation and presentation of the Minnesota Classics Week.

DELTA KAPPA Carroll College
Plans are being made by Delta Kappa Chapter for a High School Night at which members of the chapter will present a program on Greek and Roman physical fitness offerings for the students and teachers in the area high schools.

DELTA LAMBDA College of the Holy Cross
The members of Delta Lambda Chapter have administered a Know English Exam, a regional competition designed to emphasize the correlation between Latin and English studies, and a Latin Sight Contest, a competition among students of Caesar, Cicero, and Vergil. The chapter also conducted a Classical Night for local Latin teachers to discuss the problems involved in teaching Latin at the secondary level. The members have enjoyed bi-weekly coffee hours and one field trip.

DELTA MU Illinois State University
Delta Mu Chapter participated in the homecoming events of Illinois State University by sponsoring a walking float in the parade and assisting in a tea for alumni of the Department of Classics.
